This chart above is used to give a price range for PDR services of normal dings and minor dents on steel panels (add 25% more for aluminum) (does not include hail damage). The estimate may be higher based on the size, location and severity of the dent(s). Dents on creases and body lines may cost more. A final estimate can only be determined by one of our experienced PDR technicians. All prices are subject to change. Travel time ore removal of parts for access is not included in the above pricing.*

To get a quote over email, send 3 or more photos to info@painlessdent.com. Photos must be taken at 2 angles and one straight on to show the dent(s) in detail. Additional photos may be required to give an more accurate estimate.

Use the ruler below to determine the actual size of the dent.
